Council pays tribute to former Councillor Jack Canham

Coonamble Shire Council is saddened to acknowledge the passing of former Councillor Jack Canham, who served as an elected member of Council from 1999 to 2012.

During his 13 years of service, Jack made a significant contribution to the Coonamble Shire community, dedicating his time and experience to representing local residents and helping shape the future of the Shire.

Jack was a committed community member who understood the importance of local government and the role it plays in supporting the people, businesses and communities of the region.

“Jack Canham was a great servant of the community and will be missed by many. Not only did Jack work for council for decades, but also served as a councillor for three terms. He was a great contributor who always had time to chat about local politics and matters concerning Coonamble. I, along with current councillors and staff extend my condolences to Jack’s family” said Mayor Dan Keady

Council acknowledges Jack Canham’s contribution to Coonamble Shire and extends its deepest sympathies to his family and friends.
